

INTRODUCING THE FIRST NATIONS' EMERGENCY SERVICES SOCIETY FIRESMART™ TEAM

The First Nations' Emergency Services Society (FNESS) and FireSmart BC are working together to support First Nations in building community wildfire resiliency.

WHAT WE DO

Every FireSmart journey is unique. We are passionate about helping First Nations navigate where to start and what steps to take to build a more wildfire resilient community. Contact us for help with:

- Questions, feedback, or support regarding the FireSmart BC program.
- Guidance on FireSmart BC resources and programing
- Work with the FNESS Mitigation Specialist/Liaison and First Nation communities in accessing funding through the Community Resiliency Investment (CRI) or the FNESS-Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) On-reserve FireSmart Program.
- Suggestions on ensuring First Nation perspective and input are included in the FireSmart program.
- Support for local FireSmart positions working for First Nations in BC.
- Support for research projects within a community, or to serve a community.
- FireSmart Training/Mentoring to FireSmart staff positions
- Deliver FireSmart Education Presentations
- Participate in FireSmart Community events

WHO WE ARE

- Amanda Reynolds: FireSmart Division Supervisor
- Helena Marken: FNESS FireSmart Researcher
- Dan Stevens: FireSmart Education and Outreach Coordinator
- Malina Garner: FireSmart Education and Outreach Coordinator

General email: FireSmart@fness.bc.ca

Phone: 778-694-9982 (Amanda)

From left to right: Quentin Nelson - Mitigation Team Leader, Malina Garner, Dan Stevens, Amanda Reynolds, Helena Marken.