FNESS PREPAREDNESS AND RESPONSE BOOTCAMP

March 7-10, 2023

The FNESS Preparedness and Response department hosted their first boot camp on March 7-10 and it was an incredible success! All FNESS staff were invited to participate in the multi-day event that provided Emergency Operations Centre, Tiger Dam™ and Structure Protection training.

RECOVERY AND EMERGENCY SUPPORT SERVICES

Bob Mills

The Recovery and Emergency Support Services (ESS) department continues to assist our First Nation (FN) communities in the development of their own ESS Team of volunteers through training, either in person or via Zoom. We also help communities with their evacuees to transition from other supports outside of their community, to their own community based program.

We provide 72hr emergency kits to communities who are in need, with priority going to communities that are remote, at higher risk of an emergency.

Our Emergency Support community laptop program is back in communities delivering laptops and program information now that the weather and road conditions are improving. If your community has not received a delivery, please connect with me and my team will arrange a delivery at a time that suits you best.

FNESS' Recovery and ESS department is available to provide training to FN communities in the area of Recovery or ESS either in person or via Zoom.

For any questions or further information please call me direct at: 250-457-1694 or by email: bmills@fness.bc.ca

Also, please consider joining FNESS' online Emergency Operations Centre training sessions every Thursday from 10:00 am – 12:00 pm via Zoom and/or our ESS training starting at 1:00 pm - 3:00 pm every Thursday (see page 7 for the full training schedule). Send your request to participate to: training@fness.bc.ca

MITIGATION

Quentin Nelson, FIT

Weyt-k, Hello

We look onward to 2023, and with that, we strive to continue working together, building stronger relationships, and collaborating with our BC Indigenous communities.

Since January, the Mitigation Department has continued to support applications into the Community Resiliency Investment program and our ISC Operational Fuel Treatment, FireSmart, and Cultural and Prescribed Fire programs. Our wildland firefighter training program and wildland fire equipment purchasing program continue to build traction and interest amongst our First Nation communities in BC.

Our in-person community engagements have allowed us to hear what Nations needs are and how our programs can align with their goals in increasing community resiliency. As we continue to grow, building our internal capacity and expanding external instructor capacity, so will our services, and ultimately the support we are able to provide to Nations.

The Mitigation Department is comprised of the following:

Amanda Reynolds, BA, BED - Prov. FireSmart Coord.
 Caleb Rempel, RFT - Mitigation Liaison
 Cathy MacKenzie, RPF - Mitigation Specialist
 Darrick Andrew, BNRS - Mitigation Liaison
 Dave Pascal - Cultural and Prescribed Fire Specialist
 Jeff Mortimer, RFT - Wildfire Specialist
 Karen Alexandre - Administrative Coordinator

Larry Price, RPF - Mitigation Specialist
 Marc Aymerich-Casas, FIT - Mitigation Liaison
 Neil Findlay, RPF - Bighorn Adventures Ltd. (casual)
 Owen Price, RFT - Mitigation Specialist
 Rob Bosse - Wildfire Specialist
 Robert Mitchell, RPF - Mitigation Specialist
 Vic Upshaw - Cultural and Prescribed Fire Specialist

We look forward to serving and being involved with our BC First Nation Communities and welcome you to contact us at mitigation@fness.bc.ca.

RESPONSE

Jamie Svendsen (Interim Manager)

The Preparedness and Response Team (P&R) have been busy this fourth quarter working with First Nation communities across BC.

We continue to deliver emergency operation center kits to communities. Please reach out to Bernadine Edwards at bedwards@fness.bc.ca if you haven't received one.

In preparation for spring freshet, we are planning internally and working with communities to prepare for and respond to potential incidents. P&R continues to build its response capacity with the addition of four new TIGER DAM™ trailers, these trailers are available for deployment upon request and approval. Please send requests to emresponse@fness.bc.ca

We continue to assist communities with updating their Hazard Risk Vulnerability (HRV) assessments and Critical Emergency Plans so that our nations are better equipped for an emergency. Our team has coordinated three Indigenous Information Sessions via zoom and have been assisting communities with their applications for the Disaster Risk Reduction (DRR) - Climate Adaptation Funding Stream under the Community Emergency Preparedness Fund.

Our team hosted our first ever Bootcamp in Kamloops on March 7-10 (see cover story).

The Preparedness and Response Department is comprised of:

Alison Lomon - On-call Casual
Austin Baldwin - On-call Casual
Bernadine Edwards - Administrative Coordinator
Brian Lauzon - Maintenance and Equipment

PREPAREDNESS

Jim MacDonald

Since January 1st, our training team, consisting of two full time and one part time training officers, directly delivered courses to over 38 First Nations, and a total of 575 participants. We deliver courses both online and in person. More than 120 participants are registered for our online sessions, and we typically see more than 30 people attending any one session.

Looking ahead, we plan to deliver custom online courses to individual First Nations', facilitate tabletop and functional exercises, assist First Nation communities by sharing public education messages, and develop regional emergency program coordinator boot camps.

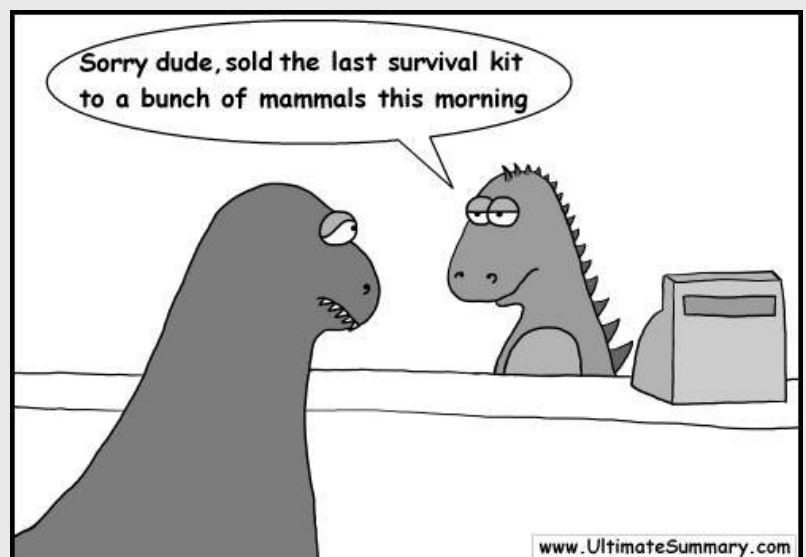

The new on-line course schedule can be found on the following page (page 7).

The Training Department is comprised of:

Bernadine Edwards - Admin Coordinator

Jackie Kloosterboer - Casual Training Officer

Wendi Omeasoo - Training Officer

FIRE SERVICES

Nathan Combs

Amma Sa'/Hello,

Fire Services is grateful to have engaged with communities this past quarter and increase fire safety for our First Nations community members. As of January 1st, our department members have supported Nations through Community First Aid, Exterior Operations and Firebox Training, Public Education, Fire Safety Assessments, Fire Extinguisher Training, Youth Bootcamps, and Governance with Chief and Council around the province.

Our department is happy to have hosted our first Burn Awareness Campaign (see poster below) and Poster Contest, as well as host a 2-day firefighter youth workshop in conjunction with Gathering Our Voices and Vancouver Fire Rescue in March of 2023. The department is committed to building capacity to further assist our Nations and protect communities.

The Fire Services Department is comprised of the following:

Alisha Juma - Fire Services Coordinator

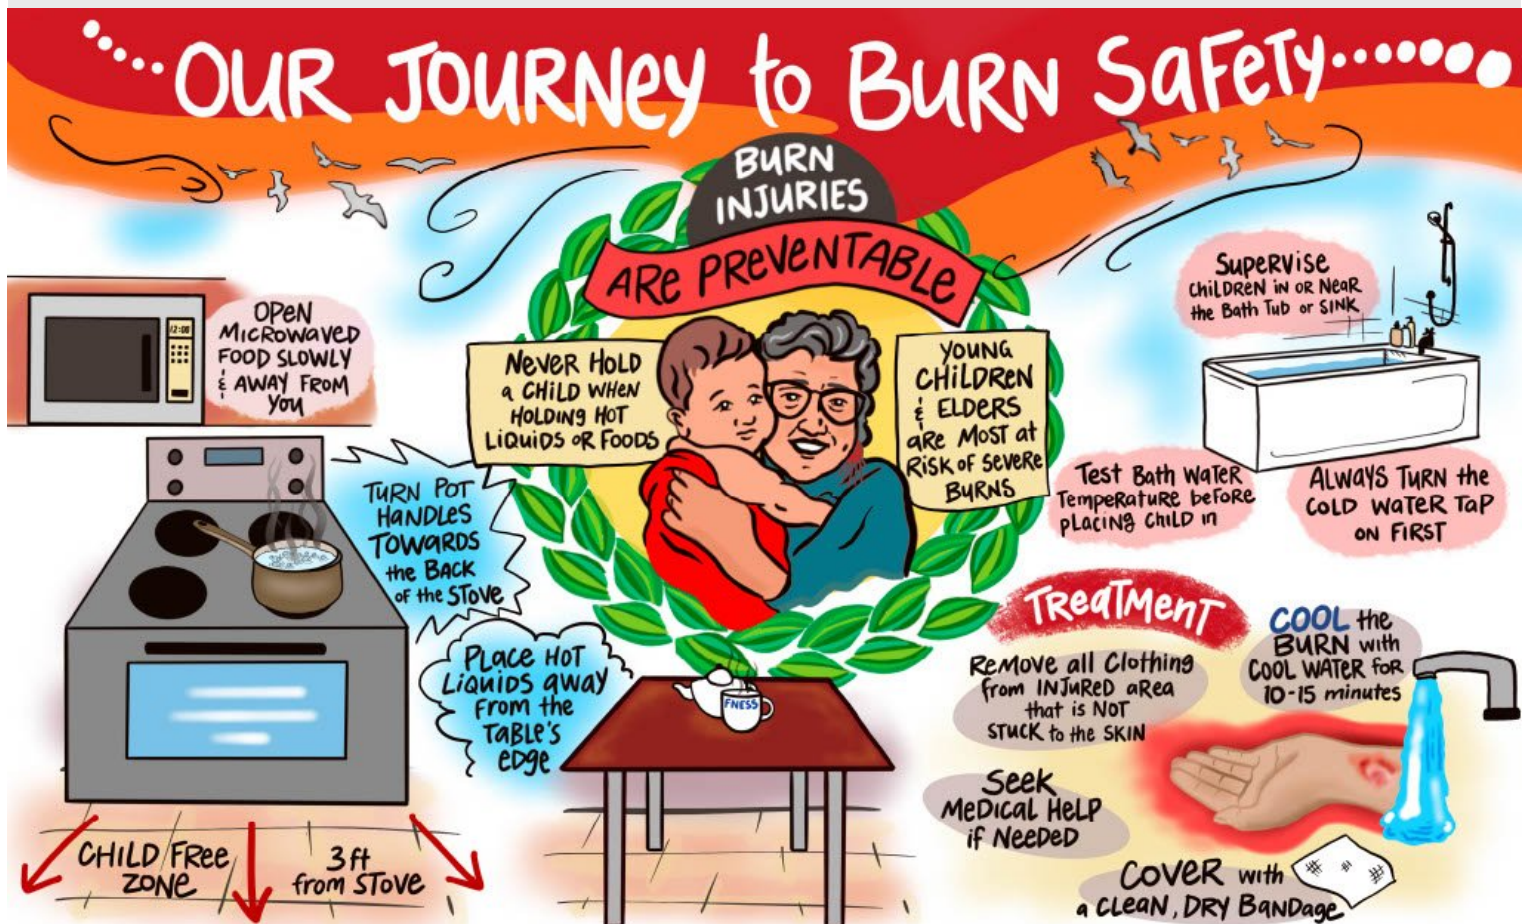

Chris Turner - Fire Services Officer

In addition: 11 On-Call Fire Services Casuals

Hamiyaa 'nii'y loosi'm/I thank you

Dan Heaton - Fire Services Officer

Emerson Adolph - Fire Services Officer

Burn Awareness Week - FNESS Poster Contest

February 5-11, 2023

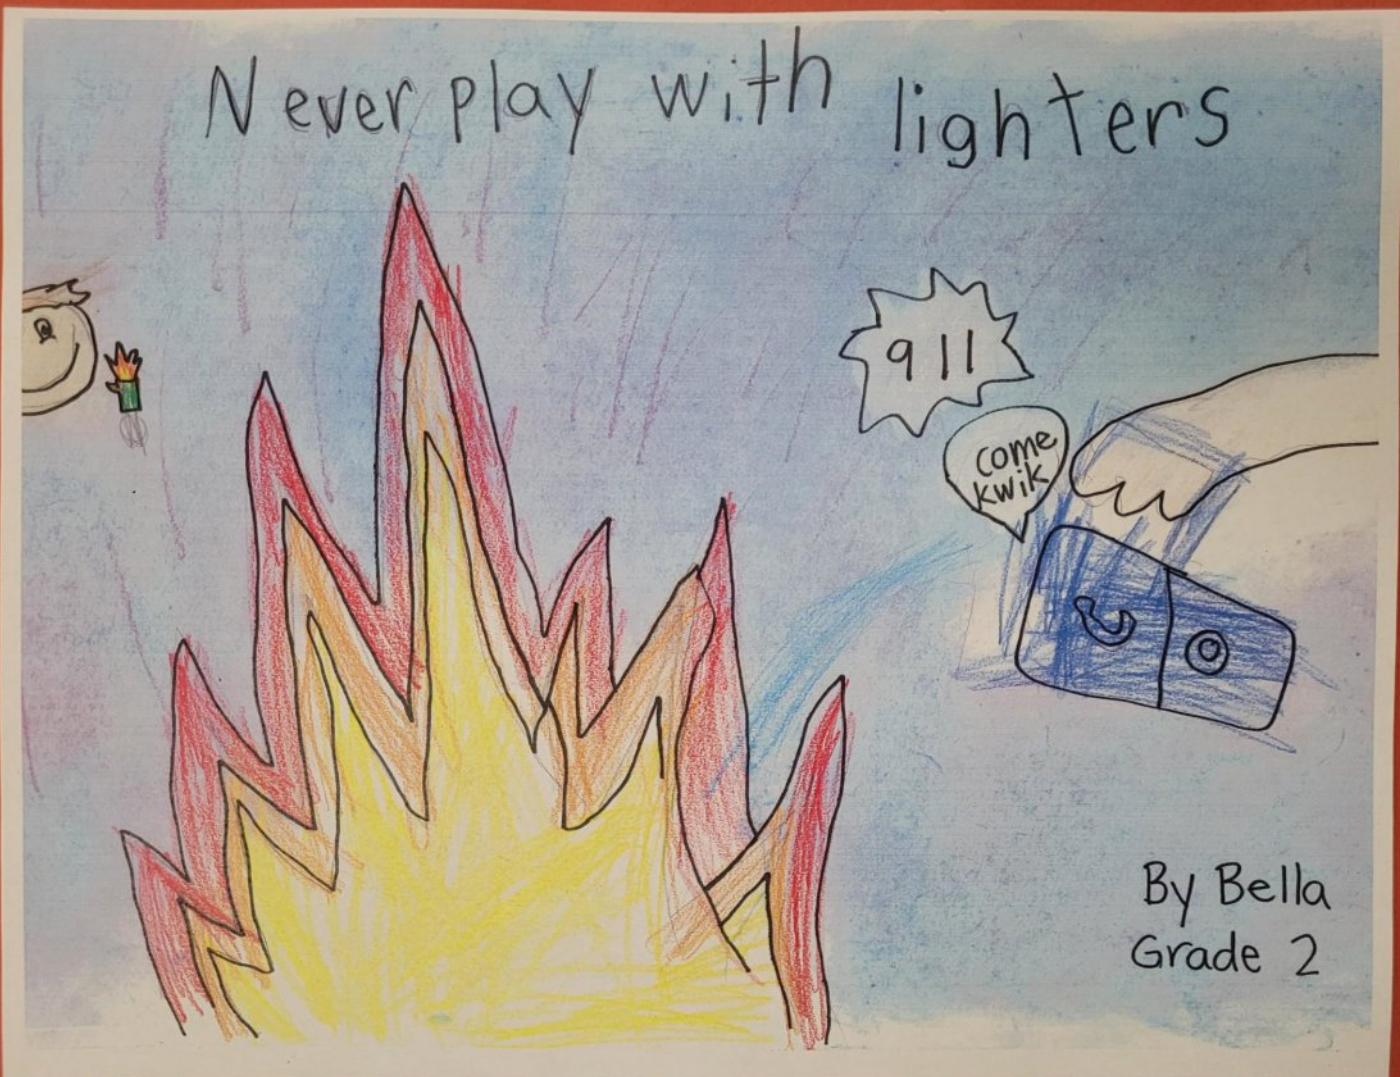

Burn Awareness Week (BAW) is an annual National campaign intended to heighten awareness about devastating burn injuries and educate people about how to prevent and treat them. BAW was held February 5-11.

This year FNESS held it's first ever BAW Poster Contest. The poster contest was fun and easy, and student posters can be used to teach others about how to prevent burns and scalds any time of the year. We'd like to thank every student and teacher that participated in this year's poster contest and for helping us spread awareness around burns and scalds, while preventing these injuries.

This year's winners are:

- Kindergarten: Individual Award - Pridge C. - Hartley Bay School
- Grade 2: Classroom Award - Outma Sqilxw Cultural School (Penticton)
- Grade 2: Individual Award - Nora L. - Hartley Bay School
- Grade 3: Individual Award - Elijah B. - Hartley Bay School
- Grade 4/5: Classroom Award - James Thompson Elementary (Powell River)
- Grade 6-9: Classroom Award - Nus Wadeesulh Community School (Takla Landing)

One of the winning posters from the Outma Sqilxw Cultural School.

FNESS is happy to facilitate the 2023 Indigenous Firefighter Competition held in Penticton, BC on Saturday, June 3rd! The event is open to all First Nations' Fire Departments in BC. Teams must follow the rules and requirements as outlined in the Evolution Manual.

Please contact Alisha Juma at ajuma@fness.bc.ca for more information regarding this year's event.

Xaxli'p Fire Department S-100 and S-185 Training

March 4-5, 2023

Xaxli'p hosted a 2-day S-100 Basic Fire Suppression and Safety and S-185 Fire Entrapment Avoidance and Safety refresher courses on March 4-5, 2023. Bearing the crisp weather, Neill Moroz - FNESS Fire Services On-call Casual, provided the training to seven volunteer Fire Department members.

Humanitarian Project Showcase

Donors visit renovated homes that were heavily damaged by the 2021 flood event.

On January 27, FNESS welcomed representatives from Islamic Relief to Merritt, BC. Islamic Relief graciously donated funds that helped contribute to the restoration of homes that were badly damaged by the 2021 Atmospheric River flood event.

FNESS showcased three projects and the delegation had the opportunity to visit two of them. Thanks to the generous donations from various funding agencies, families have or will soon be able to return to safe and healthy homes.

Be Prepared for the 2023 Flood and Wildfire Seasons

PREPARE YOUR FAMILY

Although we cannot predict when a flood or wildfire will occur, we can be proactive and take steps to prepare ourselves and protect our properties from being damaged by these events.

1. Make an Emergency Plan

Ensure your family knows what to do in an emergency. Complete Prepared BC's Fill-in-the-blanks Home Emergency Plan to create an emergency plan for your family and home. Creating and printing the on-line plan will only take you about 20 minutes. https://www2.gov.bc.ca/assets/gov/public-safety-and-emergency-services/emergency-preparedness-response-recovery/embc/preparedbc/preparedbc-guides/preparedbc_household_plan.pdf

2. Emergency Preparedness Kits - "Grab and Go Bags"

In an emergency, it is important to have some supplies in case you need to get by without power or running water. Most emergency organizations recommend that you are prepared to be self-sufficient for at least 72 hours. Don't forget to make a grab and go bag for your pets.

Basic Emergency Kit Checklist:

- Pen and notepad
- Phone charger and battery bank
- Flashlight – wind up or battery powered (and extra batteries)
- Radio – wind up or battery powered (and extra batteries)
- First aid kit
- Personal toiletries and medication
- Seasonal clothing
- Extra keys for car and house
- Food – non-perishable such as energy bars, dried and canned food; manual can opener
- Water – at least two litres of water per person per day
- Cash and change
- Important family documents – identification, insurance, bank records
- Whistle
- Emergency blanket
- Emergency plan and contact information

3. Protect Your Home

FireSmart™ your home. Download the FireSmart BC Landscaping Guide. https://firesmartbc.ca/wp-content/uploads/2021/04/FireSmartBC_LandscapingGuide_Web_v2.pdf

4. Know Your Evacuation Stages

Evacuation Alert: Be ready to leave on short notice.

Evacuation Order: You are at risk. Leave immediately. Make sure you check in at an Emergency Support Services (ESS) reception centre. Contact family and friends to let them know where you are and that you are safe.

Evacuation Rescind: All is now safe and you can return home.

5. Download Prepared BC's Wildfire Preparedness Guide

The Wildfire Preparedness Guide will help prepare you for what to do before, during and after a wildfire. https://www2.gov.bc.ca/assets/gov/public-safety-and-emergency-services/emergency-preparedness-response-recovery/embc/preparedbc/preparedbc-guides/wildfire_preparedness_guide.pdf

6. Download Prepared BC's Flood Preparedness Guide

Be Prepared for the 2023 Flood and Wildfire Seasons

PREPARE YOUR COMMUNITY

Preparing your community for an emergency can be a daunting task, but it doesn't have to be. Completing the tasks below can help you be prepared in the event of an emergency.

1. Planning Committee

Determine personnel, assign roles and responsibilities. Key members may include representatives from:

- First Nations departments (e.g., health, finance, planning)
- Local law enforcement and first responders (e.g., fire, ambulance, emergency social services)
- Relevant agencies and organizations (e.g., health authority, school district)

2. Community Emergency Management Plan

Create or locate an emergency plan for your community and ensure it is up to date. Download Emergency Management BC's Emergency Management Planning Guide for Local Authorities and First Nations at https://www2.gov.bc.ca/assets/gov/public-safety-and-emergency-services/emergency-preparedness-response-recovery/local-government/em_planning_guide_for_la_fn.pdf

3. Community Maps

Identify high hazard and high-risk areas such as:

- Wildland-urban interface zones
- Infrastructure (e.g., roads, communication systems, water and power lines)
- Water sources
- Elder's homes
- Community centres
- Places of special interest (e.g., community church, graveyard, sacred places)

4. Contact Lists

Identify emergency resources and community contacts. Compile a list of community members that may require extra assistance (e.g., elders, people with disabilities).

5. Partner/Host Communities

Reach out to other communities to develop reciprocal agreements to provide/receive assistance during emergency situations. Build relationships with your neighbours, both inside and outside of your nation.
